A GUIDE TO CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

A Bright Future

Opportunities for careers in healthcare have never been better.

Today, healthcare is the nation's largest industry – yet critical shortages of qualified workers persist in many health sectors across the country. The specific field of sub-acute and long-term care is a segment of healthcare that is continuing to grow in terms of need. More and more individuals are leaving hospitals and receiving rehabilitation in a short-stay unit instead. In addition, many elderly individuals require long-term care services, and moreover, others require specialized Dementia/Alzheimer's care in a secured, safe environment. Skilled positions such as nursing assistant, physical therapy or occupational therapy assistant, licensed practical nurse, and registered nurse all offer good wages and strong opportunities for advancement. To address the shortage, the Baltimore Alliance for Careers in Healthcare developed an educational initiative called Career Mapping that provides career track information to connect city residents with skilled jobs and careers.

As leading provider of sub-acute, long-term, and specialty care, Genesis Healthcare offers a variety of services in more than 200 centers across 13 eastern states. In addition, Genesis Rehabilitation Services supports our skilled nursing centers and also sends therapists to affiliated assisted living facilities, hospitals, home health companies, adult day programs and outpatient clinics. Our employees are the vital link between Genesis Healthcare and our patients and residents. In fact, we believe that our employees are our greatest asset – they are the service we provide, the product we deliver and our most valuable resource. For those reasons, we take fostering employee career growth very seriously, and we make every effort to recognize remarkable employees who provide patient care above and beyond even our high corporate standards.

Career Mapping

Career mapping is simply a "road map" that lists major jobs within an organization and outlines their required qualifications for employment. This visual overview provides information about career opportunities available in Baltimore long-term care facilities and the education and experience needed for career advancement or entry into a particular healthcare occupation.

Who Uses Career Maps?

Virtually anyone can benefit from career mapping. Whether you have yet to attain your high school diploma/GED or have a college degree, career maps can provide a pathway to rewarding careers in the health professions. If you are already employed and want to advance or move into another healthcare occupation, mapping will give you the basics – job duties and education requirements.

Navigating Career Maps

There are two categories of maps based on positions with similar job descriptions and qualifications in long-term care facilities – Clinical and Nonclinical positions. Within each position category there are a series of educational steps as you read from left to right across the map. Generally, education, experience and salary increase as you move right to higher degrees that appear across the top of the page. Within a given degree, there may be an increase in the experience and education/training required as you move from the bottom to the top of the page, although this is not true in all cases.
